All titles are available in Nassau Digital Doorway and the Overdrive and Libby apps.

Montauk

by Nicola Harrison

Distancing herself from her unfaithful spouse and her fellow society wives at seaside Montauk Manor, Bea Bordeaux is drawn by the village's natural beauty and community spirit before falling for a man who is nothing like her husband.

Floyd Harbor: stories

by Joel Mowdy

A debut collection of linked stories, set mainly in the 1990s, explores the lives of residents at a scenic beachfront region of New York long afflicted by challenges ranging from poverty and menial labor to addiction and PTSD.

A Long Island story

by R. A Gekoski

In 1952, as a heat wave sweeps across America, the seemingly perfect Grossmans move from Washington, D.C., to Long Island, where they wonder if they were meant for something more and whether their marriage—and family—is worth fighting for.

Charming Billy

by Alice McDermott

When the late Billy Lynch's relatives and friends gather together to keep his memory alive, stories are woven and memories relived detailing his life in the close Irish-American community and the intricate feelings that resurface.

Amagansett

by Mark Mills

A reclusive, first-generation Basque fisherman finds his life transformed forever when he pulls up the body of a beautiful young woman in his fishing nets, in a story of love, death, and redemption in a small Long Island fishing community in 1947.

Local girls

by Alice Hoffman

An anthology of interconnected short stories captures the lives and destinies of a family struggling with tragedy and divorce, in a series of portraits that chronicle a young girl's journey through betrayal, grief, conflicting loyalties, friendship, and loss.

Where it hurts

by Reed Farrel Coleman

Losing everything in a single shattering moment, former Suffolk County cop Gus Murphy reluctantly agrees to help an ex-con who would solve a family member's murder.

The high season

by Judy Blundell

Forced to rent out her family's seaside Long Island home every summer just so they can afford to keep it, Ruthie goes to extreme lengths to protect the life she loves.
