All the light we cannot see
by Anthony Doerr
A blind French girl on the run from the German occupation and a German orphan-turned-Resistance tracker struggle with their respective beliefs after meeting on the Brittany coast.

A bend in the stars
by Rachel Barenbaum
A riveting literary novel that is at once an epic love story and a heart-pounding journey across WWI-era Russia, about an ambitious young doctor and her scientist brother in a race to solve one of the greatest mysteries of the universe.

Love and ruin
by Paula McLain
After meeting and falling in love while she covered the Spanish Civil War in Madrid, Martha Gellhorn is forced to choose between her marriage to Ernest Hemingway and her career as a war correspondent.

The flight girls
by Noelle Salazar
Audrey has always wanted to fly. It's why she implored her father to teach her. It's why she signed up to train military pilots in Hawaii. And it's why she insists she is not interested in any dream-derailing romantic involvements, even with the disarming Lieutenant James

Midnight in St. Petersburg
by Vanora Bennett Fleeing the pogroms of the south to take refuge with distant relatives in Russia's capital city, Inna Feldman is apprenticed into her hosts' violin-making workshop before the impending revolution forces her to choose between her heart and her beliefs.
