

Fantasy

All titles are available through Nassau Digital Doorway and the Overdrive and Libby apps.

Spinning silver

by Naomi Novik

Deciding to collect on the outstanding debts owed her family of moneylenders, a young woman is overheard boasting about being able to turn silver into gold by the creatures who haunt the wood, in a reimagining of the Rumpelstiltskin story.

Outcrossing

by Celia Lake

England's New Forest, 1922. Magic is real, but so is danger. Rufus lost his family to the war and plague; Ferry is working as a governess to escape an arranged marriage. Separately and together they face smugglers, bogs, and social disapproval, all equally deadly.

Every heart a doorway

by Seanan McGuire

Sent away to a home for children who have tumbled into fantastical other worlds and are looking for ways to return, Nancy triggers dark changes among her fellow schoolmates and resolves to expose the truth when a child dies under suspicious magical circumstances.

The Eyre affair

by Jasper Fforde

In a world where you can actually get lost (literally) in literature, Thursday Next, a notorious Special Operative in literary detection, races against time to stop the world's Third Most Wanted criminal from kidnapping characters, including Jane Eyre, from works of literature.

A darker shade of magic

by Victoria Schwab

Serving as an ambassador of his own world while carrying messages to parallel-universe Londons with magical abilities and conflicts, Kell hides his smuggling activities only to be set up with a forbidden object from a dark dimension.

The magicians

by Lev Grossman

Haboring secret preoccupations with a magical land he read about in a childhood fantasy series, Quentin Coldwater is unexpectedly admitted into an exclusive college of magic and rigorously educated in modern sorcery.

Black sun

by Rebecca Roanhorse

Inspired by the civilizations of the Pre-Columbian Americas Black Sun follows the unbalancing of the holy city of Tova amid a fateful solstice eclipse, woven into a tale of celestial prophecies, political intrigue, and forbidden magic.

The angel of the crows

by Katherine Addison

In an alternate-world 1880s London populated by supernatural and human beings, an angel detective and his human doctor roommate investigate a series of crimes, including Jack the Ripper.

Long Beach Public Library

111 West Park Ave

Long Beach, New York 11561 | 516-432-7201

www.longbeachlibrary.org

Fantasy

The cloud roads

by Martha Wells

Living most of his life trying to hide his shapeshifting from everyone around him, Moon is cast out when his secret is discovered and finds himself being rescued by a winged shapeshifter who introduces him to a new world and a common enemy.

Monstrous regiment

by Terry Pratchett

Running the family inn despite dwindling resources while her brother is away at war, Polly cuts off her hair to join the army and notices that her fellow recruits seem to be hiding secrets of their own. Part of the best-selling Discworld series.

All the birds in the sky

by Charlie Anders

Reunited as adults as the planet falls apart around them, childhood friends Patricia, who is magically gifted, and Laurence, an engineering genius, discover that something has brought them together to either save the world, or plunge it into a new dark ages.

Smoke and shadows

by Tanya Huff

A former ally of private detective Vicki Nelson and vampire Henry Fitzroy, one-time street kid Tony Foster embarks on a new career as a producer of the new syndicated TV series Darkest Night, a show about the adventures of a vampire detective, but his success is soon threatened by unexpected and lethal dark forces.

Stranger

by Rachel Manija Brown and Sherwood Smith

In a tale set in a future America where electricity has vanished and people have developed unusual powers, teen prospector Ross ignites a war between "pureblood" humans and humans with powers.

Neverwhere

by Neil Gaiman

Richard Mayhew's life is changed forever after he rescues a young girl named Door and finds himself journeying into a mysterious world hidden deep under the city of London, a city of monsters, saints, murderers, and angels.

Piranesi

by Susanna Clarke

Living in a labyrinthine house of endless corridors, flooded staircases and thousands of statues, Piranesi assists the dreamlike dwelling's only other resident throughout a mysterious research project before evidence emerges of an astonishing alternate world.

The invisible library

by Genevieve Cogman

An undercover librarian who works for an occult organization that collects books from different realities must determine what happened to a particularly dangerous book that has been stolen and becomes mired in a mystery infused with peril and conflicting clues.

The princess and the goblin

by George MacDonald

A little princess is protected by her friend Curdie and her newly-discovered great-great-grandmother from the goblin miners who live in caves beneath the royal castle. A classic work of fantasy suitable for all ages.

Oath of fealty

by Elizabeth Moon

As the half-elven heir to the kingdom of Lyonya, Kieri Phelan, prepares to ascend his throne and protect his new kingdom from his enemies, Prince Mikeli prepares for his own coronation in neighboring Tsaia, until an assassination attempt nearly succeeds.